S.S.S.

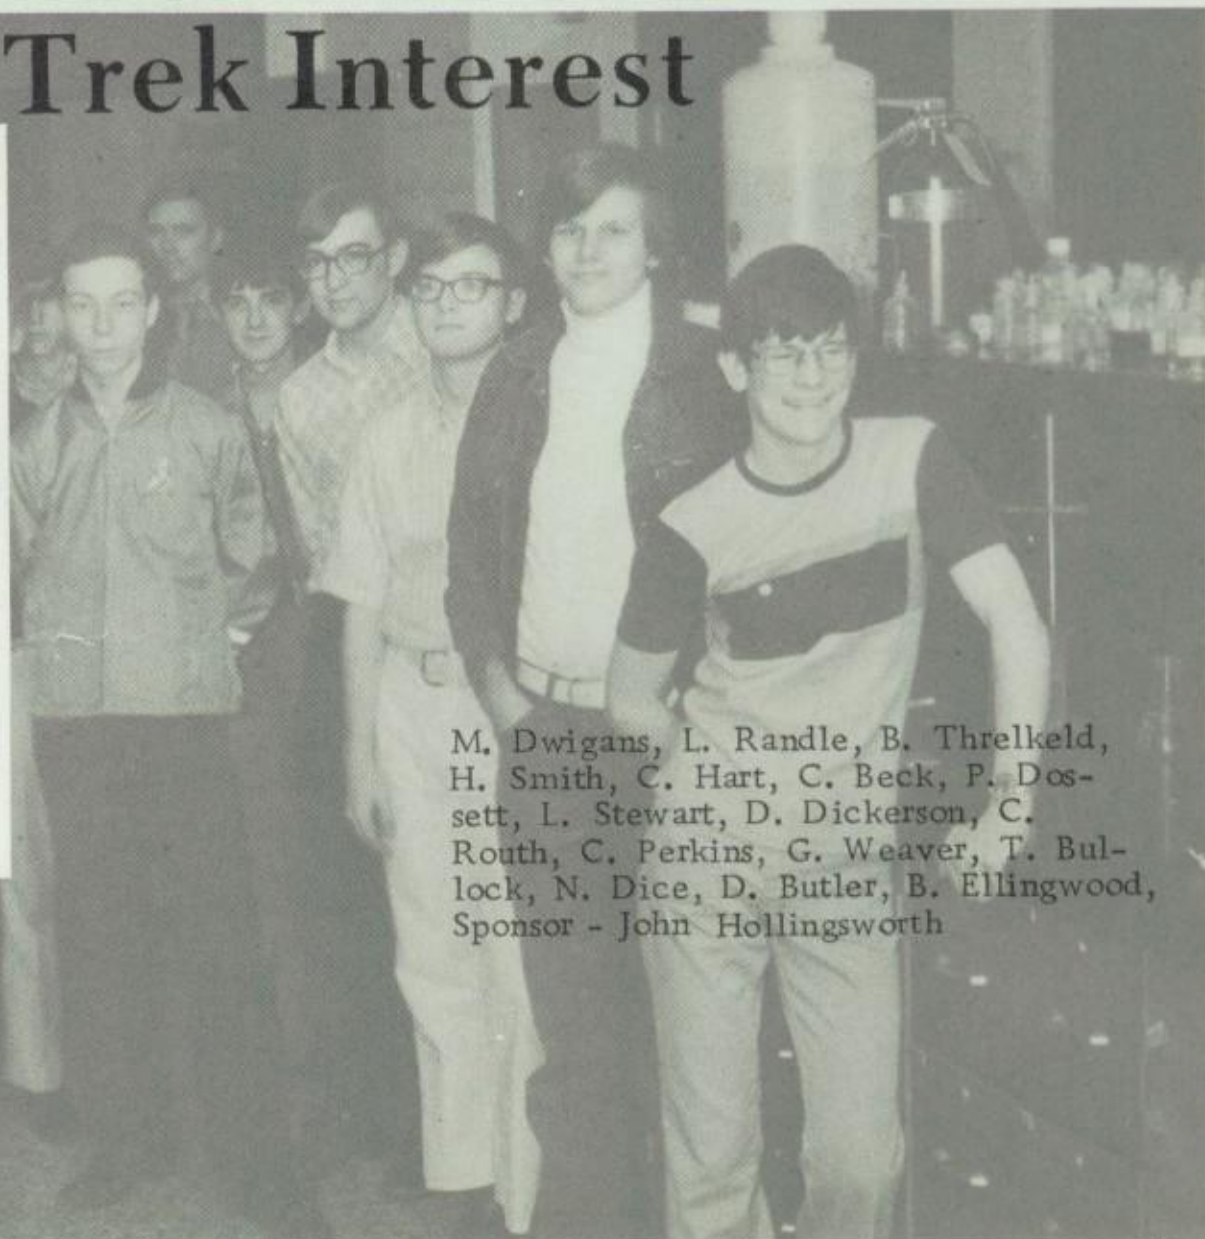

The Sunshine Society is no doubt one of the most active service organizations in school, by manning drives for worthy causes such as; food for the poor, collecting money for the Heart Fund, and making tiny baskets of goodies for the faculty. The joys they bring have endeared them to many.

The Drama Club could well be termed the exhibitionists of the school. This year they entertained us with outstanding productions of "Music Man" with the harmonious aid of the choir and bands, and "Harvey", a comedy about a six foot tall invisible rabbit. Lighting and sound was courtesy of the AV department. The rabbit was courtesy of a rampant bio experiment!

Maggie Navarro, our foreign exchange student from Chile, leads a life not unlike that of her American counterparts. Pizza and coke is still the favorite meal among teenagers even in South America. Favorite past-times of Maggie include dancing, sports and going to the beach.

Some of the things Maggie found different in her temporary home were unfamiliar mode of transportation to and from school - the school bus. Maggie lists some of her most memorable times while in the U.S. as getting off the plane to see her new family for the first time, her first day at Southmont, and a new holiday activity for her - looking for Easter eggs.

There are little eyes upon you and they're watching night and day;
There are little ears that quickly take in every word you say. There are little hands all eager to do anything you do; And a little girl who's dreaming of the day she'll be like
you. You're the little girl's idol;
You're the wisest of the wise, In her little mind about you no suspicions ever rise. She believes in you devoutly, Holds that all you say and do she will say and do in your way
when she's a grownup like you.
There's a wide-eyed little girl who believes you're always right and her ears are always open and she watches day and night. You are setting an example every day in all you do, For the little girl who's waiting to grow-up to be just like you!

Convocations

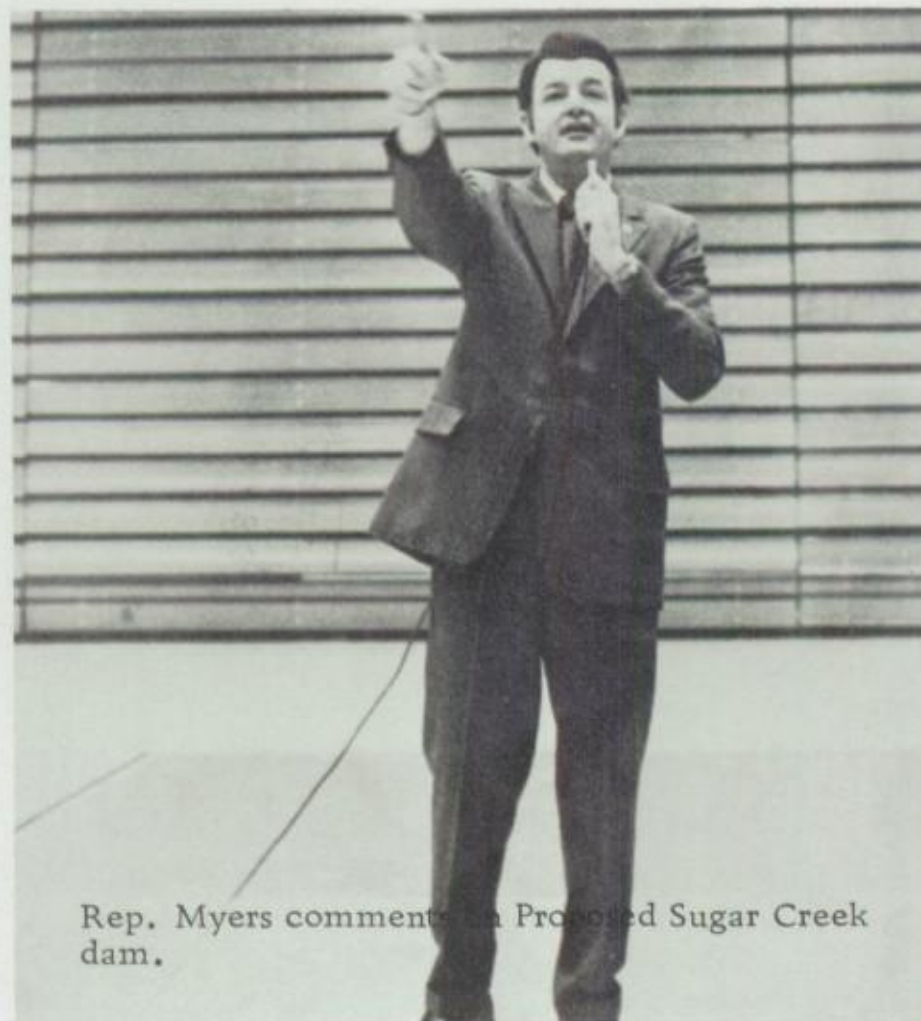

"G10098109c" "e90189001G"

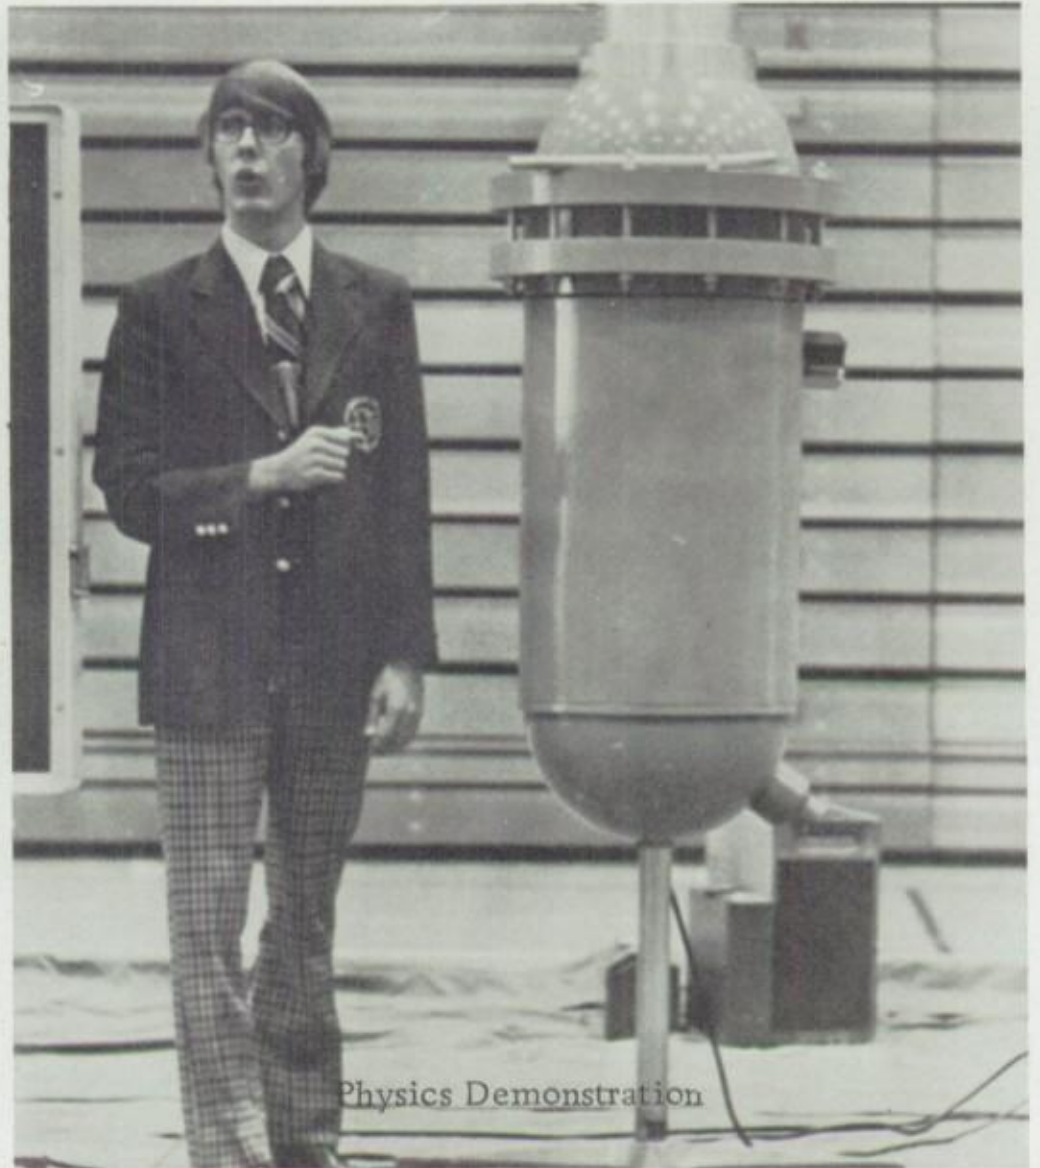

...e of us never grow up.

The convocations held this year proved to be a welcome release from the doldrums of the school's academic life. Whether educational, such as a NASA lecture, or fun, like a gymnastics, the students welcomed the change of pace. Unfortunately, convocations were held to one period lengths, which did an injustice to the programs.

Football Homecoming

Candidates (L to R) - K. Powers, C. Brady, S. Houston, D. Day, D. Gentry, B. Byrd, D. Miller, M. Brown; King - J. Roberts, B. Bullerdick, K. Enlow, P. Trimble, C. Cox. The official Basketball Homecoming was cancelled; due to a lack of interest.

The 1974 Junior-Senior Prom, Knights in White Satin, was held May 11, 1974 in the Southmont Cafetorium from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. The band, Twelveth Night, provided entertainment. Leslie Stewart and Terry Barker reigned as Queen and King. Court members were Jim Roberts, Caryl Cox, Rick Myers, Deb Dixon, Jerry Sayler, Nancy Dice, Jerry Baugh, Marj Feltner, Felicia Fullerton, and Phil Hunt.

The first Southmont tennis team learned the basics of the sport. The racketeers didn't get much publicity; even when several of the team went to the regional competition. Perhaps this was for the best, as they failed to win a single game. A lack of bleachers also complicated spectator turnout.

The freshman football squad were the in betweeners. Undefeated they were midway between a haphazard beginning in junior high and a star studded career in senior high and perhaps college football. After being dulled in the basics for three years, the ninth grade squads began to develop the style and understanding of more complete and intricate maneuvers used on the turf. Under the demanding, cautious tutelage of Mr. Williamson, their coach, the freshman are developing the power and cunning necessary to a winning team. Under watchful, directing eyes of Coach Williamson and his assistant Mr. Hatley, the charging freshmen ripped every opponent to compile an undefeated record this year, and to show great promise for next year.

Watching and waiting.

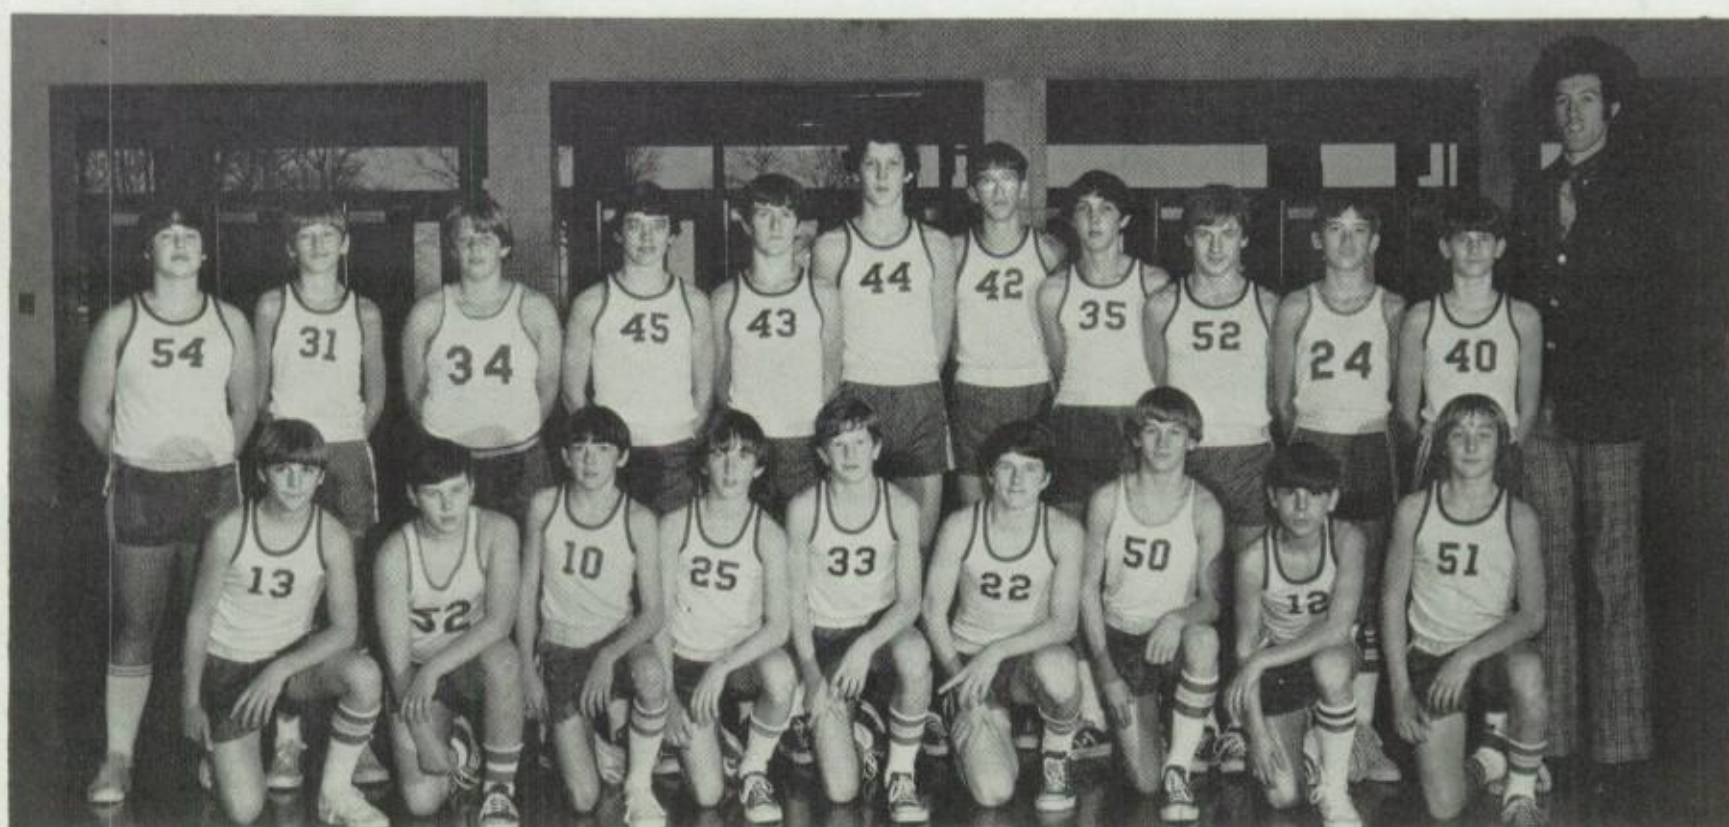

The 8th grade basketball team, under the elevated coaching of Tom Reynolds, worked on basics while compiling a near perfect record this year. They showed a skill that, in the upcoming years should provide their spectators with many thrills, and bring to Southmont the winning seasons we've lacked up till now.

The girls' Basketball team had another good season winning more than half of the games in their hurried season. In fact, they had a better season then their male counterparts. Mr. Stamper and Kenny Morris battle for a rebound in the Senior-Intramural & Faculty Game.

Intramurals

Joe Wright has his shot almost blocked.

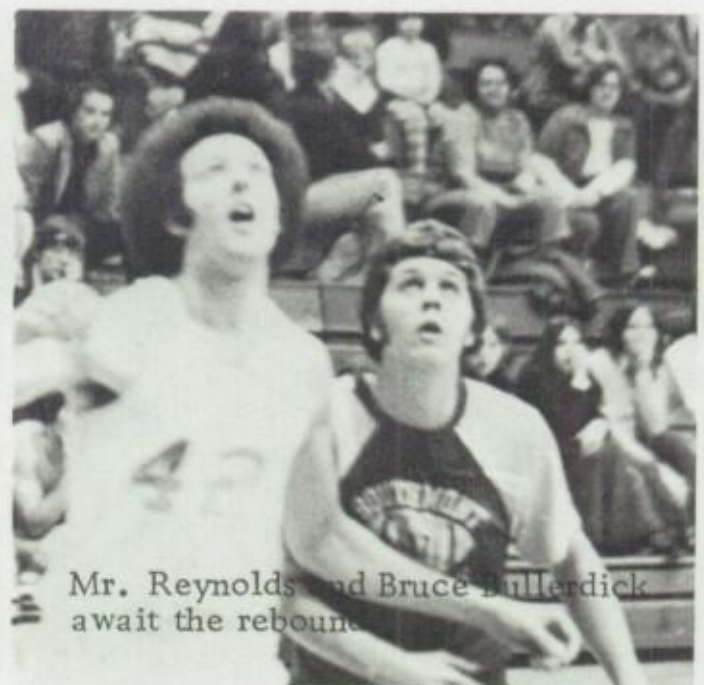

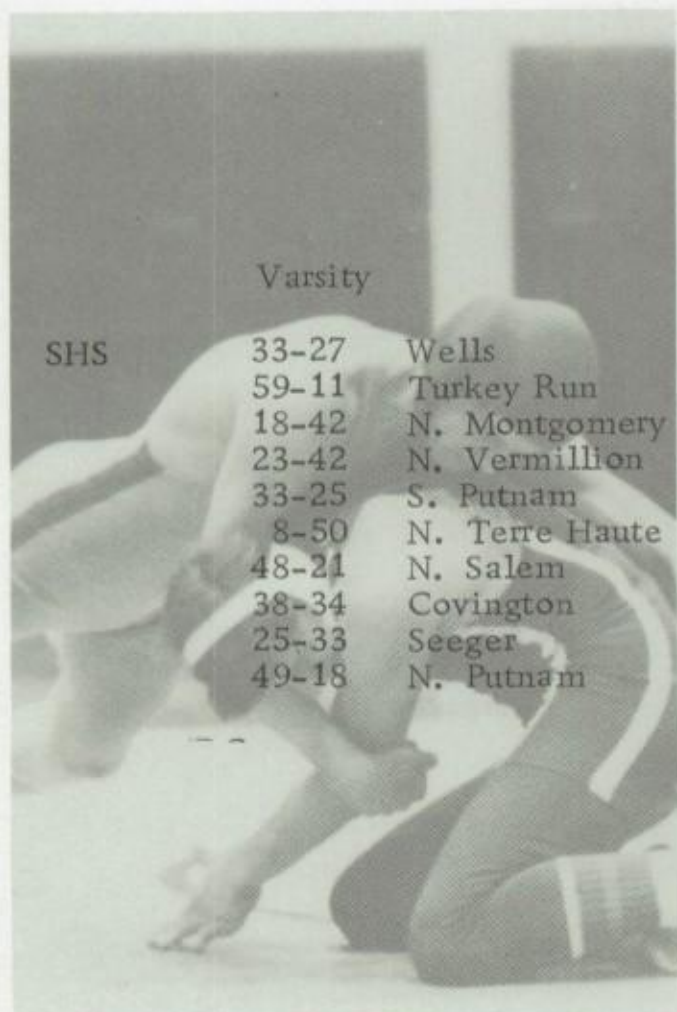

John Bronaugh guards Mr. Baird.

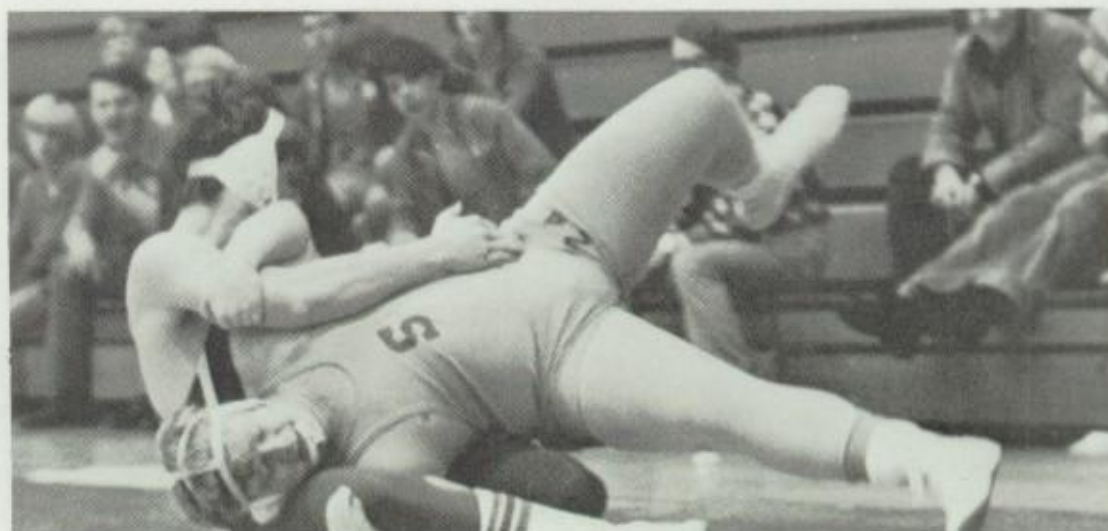

The Intramural program provided bellicose diversion from the homework. Excellent basketball games could be seen every Tuesday and Thursday nights in the Ladoga gym. The players were not hampered by school rivalries that so often ruin varsity games. The presence of good referees slowed the violent playing of most players and provided for clean, even though tough games. An intelligent set of rules also helped the games. A three-point rule was in effect, which made for some exciting finishes. The rules were decided on by Mr. Clark, the sponser, and the team captains; Rick Myers, Dave Walls, Larry Canada, Britt Young, and Jerry Walters. At the end of the season a tourney was held and the team of Dave Walls won, completing an undefeated season. A highlight of the year was a Senior-faculty game played at Southmont. The students put up an excellent battle, and trailed only a few points until the last quarter when the faculty broke the game open. At halftime, a homecoming king was selected, and Jim Roberts received the honor.

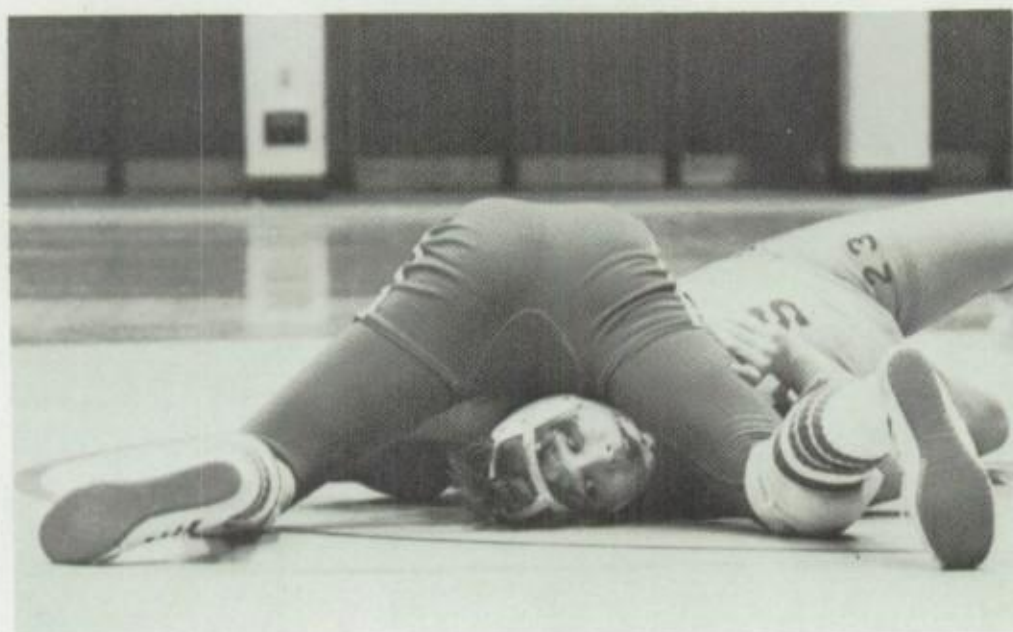

Mr. Reynolds and Bruce Bullerdick await the rebound.

The Mountie golf five topped off a good season by winning the Wabash River Conference meet. Finishing with a team score of 323 the Mounties easily out distanced rival North Montgomery's 351 followed by Attica, Seeger, Rockville, Turkey Run, Covington, and Fountain Central.

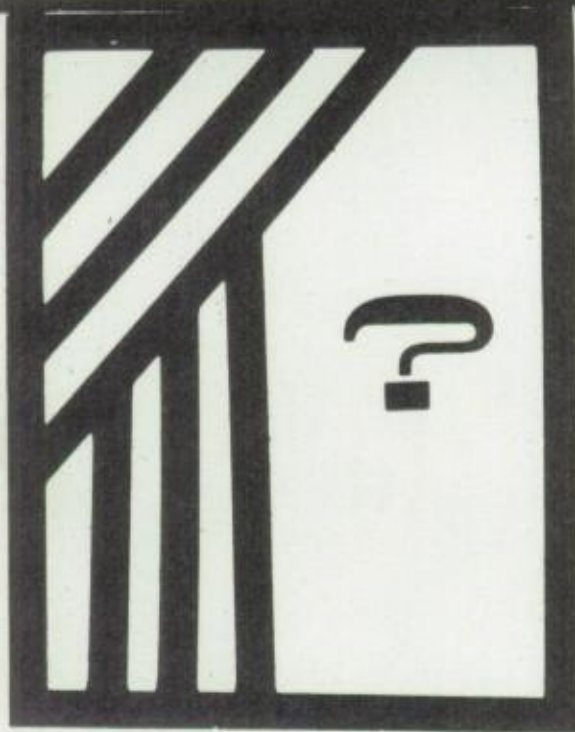

Brian Delks and Mark Smith tied Attica's Dan Leak but Leak won the first hole play-off for the medalist honor. Then Eric Houston and Carri Swift, Attica, tied for fourth. Swift won the play-off resulting in Brian Delks and Mark Smith being the only Mounties to make the all-conference team.

Vice President Agnew, in October of 1973, resigned because of grand jury indictments concerning income tax evasion and political kickbacks when he was governor of Maryland. After much plea bargaining, the Maryland judge suspended sentence and fine after Agnew pleaded "no contest." Agnew also was disbarred.

Agnew Resigns

In January of 1974, Congressman Peter Rodino, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, brought down his gavel on one of the most important investigations in American history. The committee, responsible for the investigation of crimes committed by President Nixon, found the President uncooperative with their subpoenas and requests for tapes, and so were forced to begin proceedings for impeachment.

In 1869, the only other impeachment of a U. S. President began against Andrew Johnson, "the Tennessee tailor who became president after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln." He was acquitted by a vote of 35-19, one vote short of the necessary two-thirds margin.

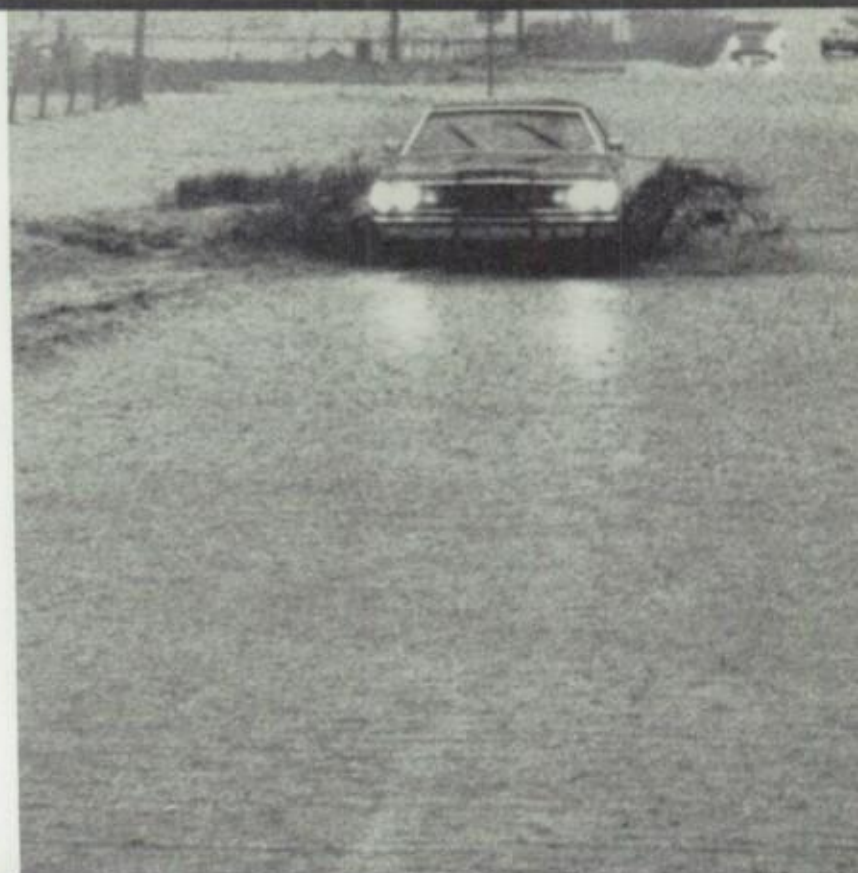

Impeachment Begins

On the storm-ridden evening of April 3, 1974, one of the most destructive series of tornadoes ripped through Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Alabama, Indiana, Georgia, Missouri, Arkansas, Mississippi, destroying such towns as Monticello, Indiana; and Xenia, Ohio; and killing over 350.

Tornados

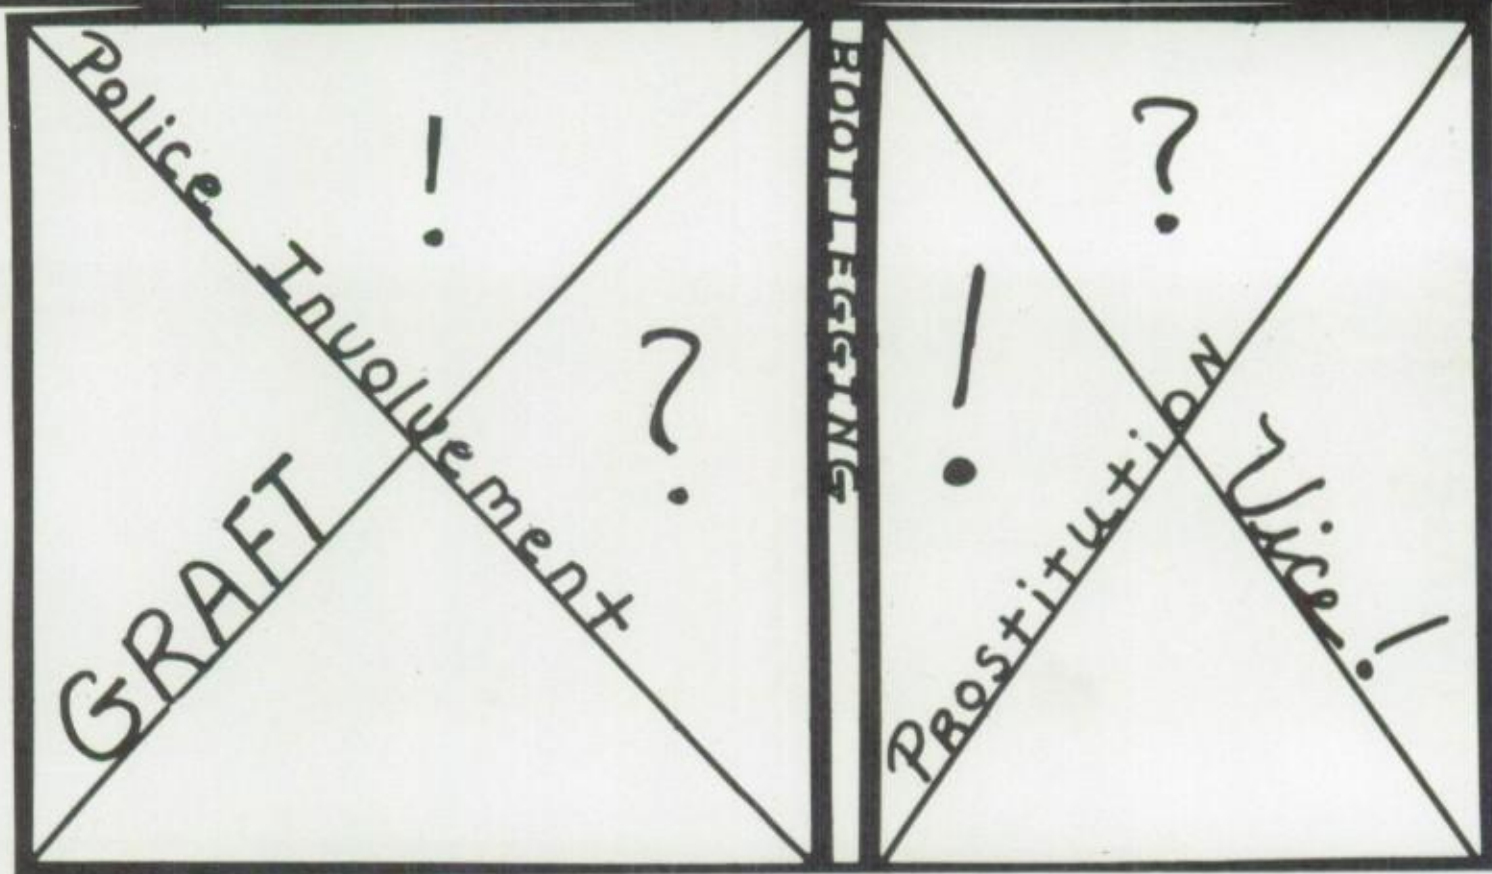

They say if you don't like the weather in Indiana, just wait five minutes and it will change. Well, it's been a wet, foul wait. This year, due to climactic change, has turned from the usual balance of warmth, sun, and rain to a cool, wet spring and early summer, causing most farmers to be late planting and destroying many fruit buds.

This year was scandal time for the Indianapolis Police Department. A group of Indianapolis Star reporters by-lined a series of exposes of police corruption in the capital city.

Mideast War

Mideast War of October, 1973, was one of the most costly and prolonged engagements in recent Israeli history. Despite initial setbacks on the Syrian front and in the Sinai desert, the Israelis once again defeated their Arab opponents, this time going to within a few miles of Damascus and Cairo.

U. S. Secretary of State, Henry Kissinger, after spending a month of shuttling back and forth between the Arabs and the Israelis, brought about a peace settlement. Only time will tell whether the peace in the Middle East will last.

Watergate: The End?

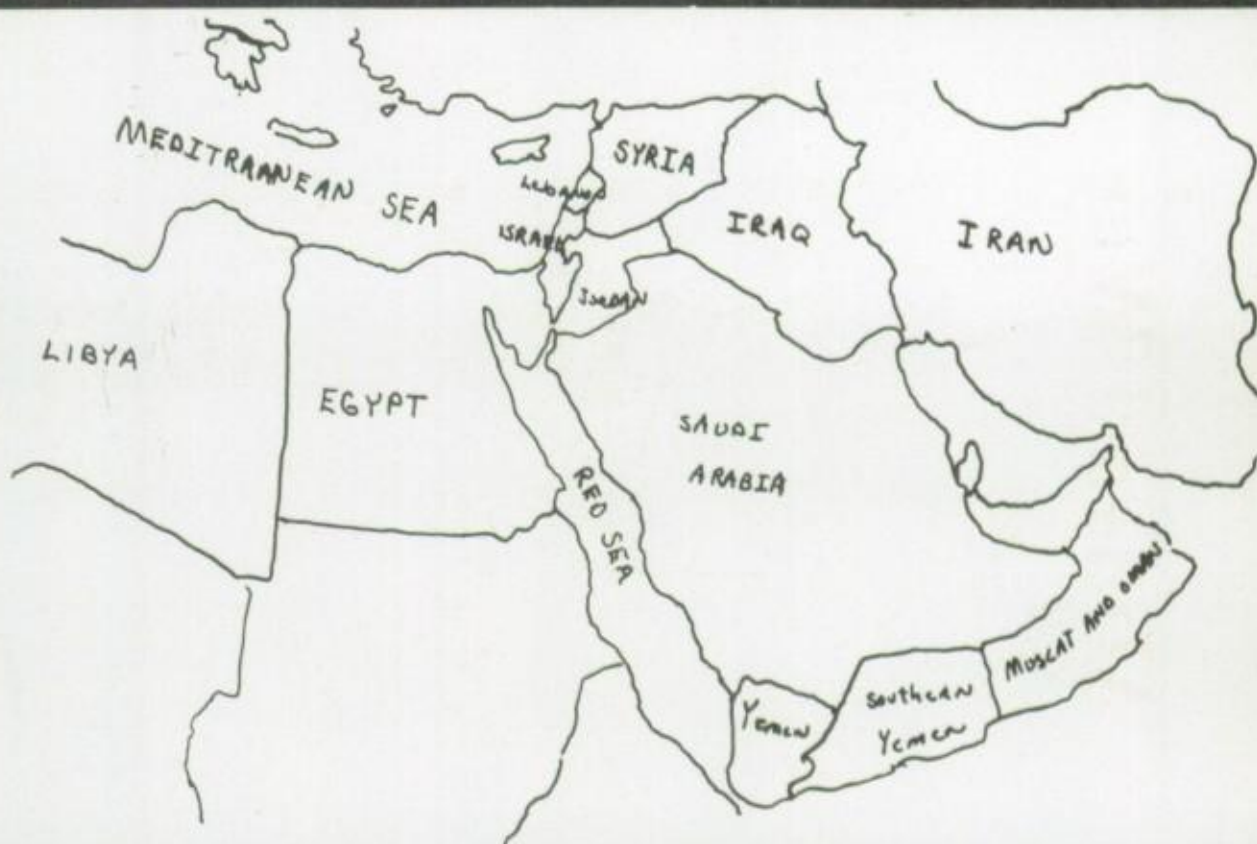

On June 19, 1972, the Washington Post exposed the Break-in of the Democrat National Headquarters in the Watergate Complex by an organization known as the White House Plumbers. This group, under the direction of the Committee to Re-Elect the President, had tapped phones in order to gain information. This revelation lead to investigations that exposed an illegal campaign contribution by the Milk Producers, income tax evasion, an oil pay-off, and various other wrong doings. THAT one story of 1972 has started a rapid decline of respect for and belief in the President, resulting in several leading newspapers and politicians calling for President Nixon's resignation.

ENERGY

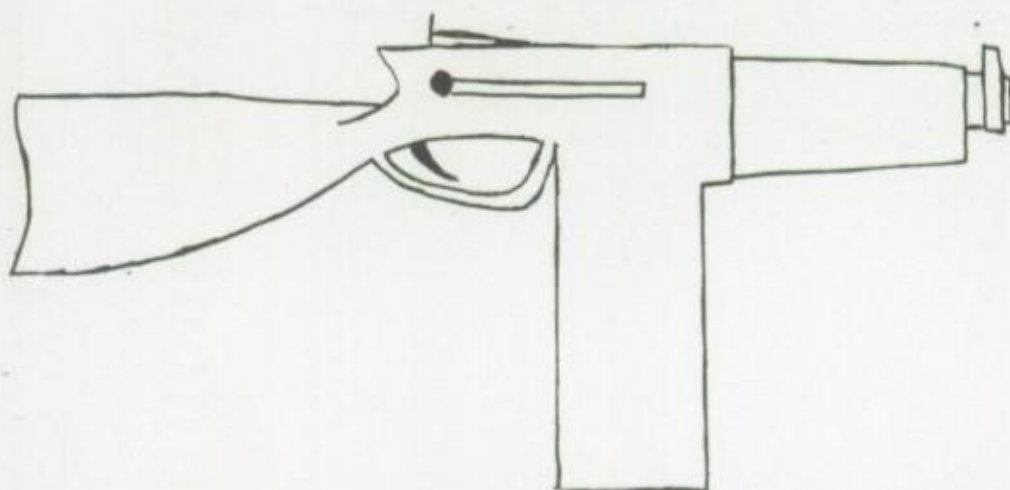

It was a rude awakening in the cold, gray dawn after the largest cocktail party in history. Suddenly people found that they couldn't, or shouldn't drive their huge gas-guzzling luxury or performance cars. The oversized, overpowered GTOs, Road Runners, etc. slowly began to disappear from our parking lot and were replaced by Pintos and Vegas. Even though the line of cars still cruise around the Dog and the Burger Chef on week-ends, a definite change is taking place toward a more practical civilization.

Energy Crisis

Kidnapping

The kidnapping of heiress Patty Hearst brought the Symbionese Liberation Army into the news. Her apparent abductors later became her alleged compatriots, causing the FBI to issue a warrant for her arrest.

Germany, and Europe, lost a great leader with the resignation of Chancellor Willy Brandt. Feeling responsible for a Communist spy found in his government, Brandt resigned rather than continue as a leader without support. His passing is a very hard blow for the Common Market, and the U. S. , as Brandt was our strongest ally.

France, stunned by the sudden loss of President George Pompidou, held elections in April to form a new government. U. S. interest stemmed from France's coolness towards us, and because of rapid inflation, the rise of leftist parties.

France: Coalition Italy: Divorce

The people of Italy, voting May 12 and 13, decided by national referendum to continue divorce in Italy. The British suffered greatly this year. Along with a continuance of trouble between the Protestants and Catholics of Northern Ireland, there was a shortage of energy causing a three day work week. A strike by coal miners caused Parliament head Edward Heath to be replaced by Harold Wilson.

Great Britain Still Great?

There was a new craze in the nation in the spring of 1974. Called streaking, the object of the game was to dash madly about a public place dressed only in tennis shoes, a hat, and a smile. Radio stations and stores offered prizes for the streakers, and Ray Stevens immortalized them in song.

The following three pages show school-life as the camera saw it. There are no captions as there is little you could say about the memories these pictures represent. We who were there don't need words.

Freshman spirit is evident with girl's pep block. The voice of the class spurs on the Mounties long after the upperclassman's spirit and fight has flicked. Thus proving themselves to be the building block of the school spirit of the future, athletic and academic.

Sophomores . . . Will it ever end? That is a phrase most every sophomore can be heard to say. It always was, always is, and always will be is the general sentiment of every 10th grader. It seems you've been in school for an eternity will yet another eternity to go. But soon, too soon, they find themselves adults, wishing for years bygone, forever. It is the plague of youth to squander the golden days unappreciated, wishing for the years of yearning for youth.

The Prom. Perhaps the most important thing this side of graduation to the average high school student. And this year was the turn of the Junior class of '75" to plan the bash. Amid the frenzied activities of candy sales the Junior lemmings rushed into the sea of planning futility. And the splash they caused made a most memorable prom.

So this is what being a Senior is all about? For Most Seniors 1973-1974, besides being our last school year, has proven quite memorable. For one thing, it didn't always meet our expectations. Seniors for the most part had dreamed of this year for many moons. Some feared it, some cherished it, some saw it as a means to an end, and all had felt it would never come. Somehow, being a rather miniscule grade schooler for eternity, you never could picture yourself as the huge prehistoric denizen that stalked the halls in search of young children to eat. And then all of a sudden, you're there. You have to plan the rest of your life in nine months it seems. You have to decide on which college or which job, or which whatever. And you find you really don't feel any different, and that you never realized, until you look around and realize it's too late, that you, and your classmates, have all changed: unarranged yourselves. You find yourself still looking up to people, not physically for the most part, but socially. You find you don't have all of the freedom you had dreamed of as you read your story of Dick and Jane - you're a boy and you're a man. People don't think you're capable of the privileges of adulthood, but amply suited for the responsibilities. Perhaps some will call this trying to grow-up too soon. But aren't we expected to?

Seniors welcomed Football Homecoming by decorating a hallway, a spirit sit-in, and dancing in the halls.

This is a perfect example of what can happen to a student after a year of Physics.

The history department had a bizarre project going this year in Am. Problems. It seems they staged a mock trial of some dimensions. Unfortunately, the jury returned an adverse verdict, and the murderer was judged not guilty.

The rabberousing English Department was at it again this year. Besides the usual classroom activities and yearbook duties, it involved itself in several other projects. Ms. Nidever sponsored a Southmont student written and directed news show aired Saturday mornings on Radio W. C. V. L. The Department aided entrees in the Montgomery County and the National Scholastic creative writing contests.

Under the direction of Ms Owen, the speech team went to many meets in their first year. Competing at Ball State and various other places, they soon developed a skill for oratory.

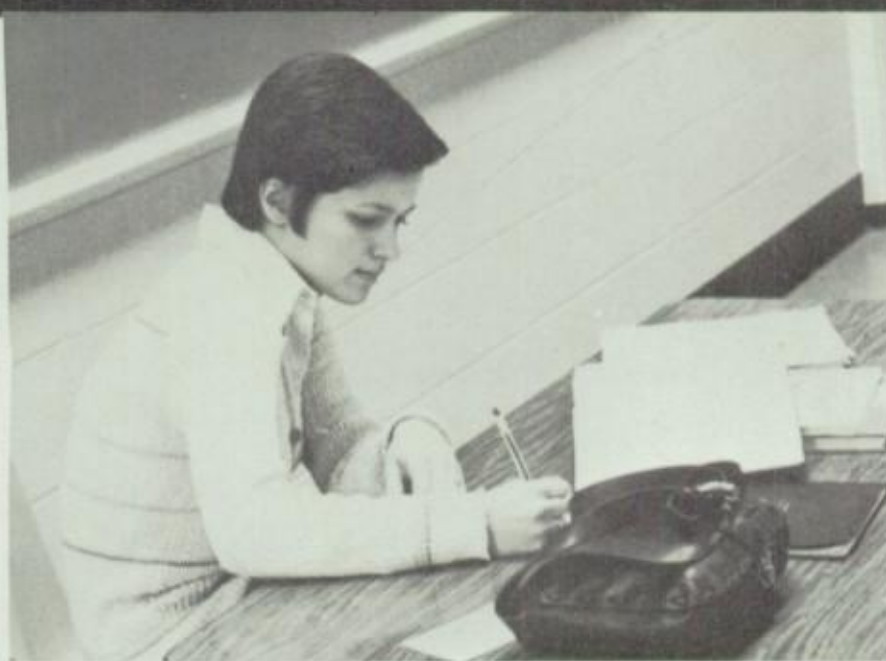

Besides all this, there were Journalism field trips, and corporation spelling bees for 7th and 8th graders, and several Junior High mini plays.

The Home Ec. and Art departments are the handicraft people of Southmont. Their hallways and display cases are always vibrant with the multicolored hues of students handicrafts, and the air is tainted with the aromas of cooking projects; some good, some not so. Yes, a walk down their halls can appeal to the most hardened senses.

The Special Ed. students work on a bulletin board display for Christmas.

Mrs. Phyllis Williams, aide for the Special Ed. Dept., gives Regina Bennett a hand with her math.

The Special Education department provides an invaluable service for those students unable to keep up with others in the rat race of the academic year. Saved from being left behind to flunk out, quit, or make do as best they can, the Special Ed. students are offered a usable education individually paced. To alleviate the boredom of studies, special olympic games in field and track are held yearly at Wabash College. Dave Siggins, Ed Collins, Bob Threlkeld, and Jerry Sayler competed in the state finals, snagging nine medals of the several awards.

Counselor

Students don't fully realize the difficulty the counselors have every year in straightening our schedule. The Guidance office must also help with other problems a student might have. It takes a lot of sweat and caring, to do it.

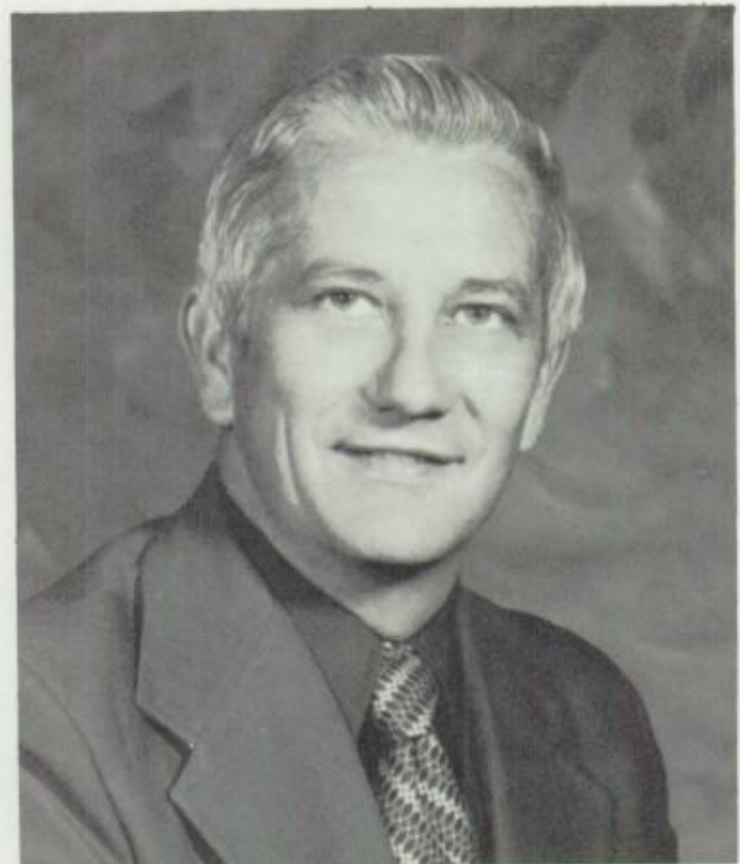

The School Board could well be classified as one of the mysteries of Southmont. Though not actually involved in daily classroom instruction or administration; they do however, play a vital role in the running and policy-making of the Southmont school system. The meetings are open to the public, but, being seldom attended, they usually become nothing more than a newspaper story.

Mr. Bob Solomon - Business Manager

Mr. Bob J. Tandy - Superintendent

Jody, student helper, does many different jobs in the office.

Denise Dossett, Secretary; Norma Sillery, Bookkeeper; Reda Hubbard, Guidance Secretary.

Dena Cline served patrons at the student store.
